Songs of Praises

As part of my road tour in "The Wiz," I had the opportunity to worship with the St. Paul A.M.E. Church in Cambridge, Massachusetts. When I first heard the New Temple Singers at that church it was a very emotional and powerful experience. The power with which the choir projects sends a message forth to the audience that is far-reaching and captivating. The impact that this church and especially the New Temple Singers had on me, and the friends that accompanied me, will be everlasting. We can be grateful to God for this truly sacred experience.

The entire church family nurtures the choir as it endeavors to spread the Word in song. This album, "Songs of Praises," will go beyond the congregation of St. Paul's to touch the lives of others, just as it did my own. And I am certain that the faith and prayers which have sustained the NTS will make this album a great success.

To get excited about the New Temple Singers' first album would be easy for me as pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. Church. To say that they are a uniquely spirited and outstanding A.M.E. choir would be unnecessary if you have ever heard them sing. This feeling will certainly be affirmed after you have heard this album. Such flattery, however, would miss the point. What must be understood is simply that the spirit which the New Temple Singers convey in this album is not theirs, but that of Almighty God. This fact alone makes this album a tremendous success story. They sing for the Lord for the simple purpose of spreading the message that God is Great and Greatly to be Praise'd. It has been more than a joy for me to pastor this group because its members sincerely believe in the message about which they sing. This is the message we hope will possess your entire being after you have listened to "Songs of Praises."
